MONDAY MAY 23.

The Rev. Dr. Barstow of "Hun Romani and Rebello" fame, was at Washington recently and chatted pleasantly with the president for more than ad homine at the latter's invitation. It is very natural that these two eminent democrats should chuckle over certain past events. The next time there is a campaign on hand the republicans will find republicans to make republican addresses.

The name of the Hon. Rutherford B. Hayes is again suggested in connection with the presidency—not of the United States, but of the Ohio State University.—Pittsburg Chronicle.

It is hoped that if he gets the presidency of the Ohio State University it will not be by the 7 to 8 plan.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

It has been suggested that there is no danger of any 7 to 8 scheme in this case, and there are not seven voting democrats in any college in the United States. As a rule democrats are not found in colleges.

He Doesn't Like It.

A dispatch reading as follows, has been sent to the newspaper from Sparta:

In regard to the consolidation of revenue districts Collector Morrow states that he knows nothing of the matter except what he has seen in the morning papers; that to add this district to the Madison district would seem rather like the tail wagging the dog; that the northwestern part of the state comprising this district was in no way tributary to Madison and that to retain the office there would be an inconvenience to tax payers; that the more suitable place for its location would be LaCrosse on account of its superior railroad and mail connections and closer business identity with this section of the country; that without doubt all the work could be done from one office with an increased clerical force and there would be some little saving, perhaps half the salary of a collector.

It is too bad to order Collector Morrow out of office when he has been in possession of it only a few months. He is the best democratic lawyer in that part of the state, and otherwise is a splendid man, and it may be that in Wisconsin he has earned the title to an office by patient waiting and a square record, it is Morrow. But there is not very much for collectors to do at the present time, and in cutting down the number of revenue districts two in Wisconsin must be wiped out, and as Madison is doing very much toward running this administration, it is no wonder Madison swallowed the Sixth district. This is hard on the democrats in the western part of the state, but you know Madison must be as long as Colonel Viles has anything to say in the matter.

Cleveland and the Spoils.

The New York Times, in discussing the president's address at the unveiling of the Garfield statue, takes occasion to say:

The ingratitude of republicans is illustrated in the following item: "It is recorded by the New York Tribune that Clerk, whose wife the wife of Parmenter at Mobile, was an applicant for a place in the Navy department but was refused by Mr. Whitney. He is now very poor. Congress voted him a medal in commemoration of his bravery and he has been forced to pawn it for money to buy bread." Mr. Clarke happens to be on the wrong side of the political fence when it comes to asking favors of the government.

Father Conroy, of Worcester, Massachusetts, has a practical way of talking of temperance. He says: Capital is called selfish because it seeks to enrich itself, yet in enriching itself it helps to enrich others, for it is engaged in commerce. But for pure, unadulterated selfishness command me to the saloon where men grow rich by impoverishing their friends and succeed by trampling others under foot. In our large centres liquor dealers become political magnates, who dictate public policy, make and unmake public men and public laws and name the candidates freemen must vote for. What is their interest in legislation? Only one thing, the liquor traffic."

The Milwaukee Sentinel: "According to the New York World Cleveland and Hill have reached an understanding by which Hill is to support Cleveland for the presidency while Cleveland is to support Hill for a second term as governor. This may be all right in New York, but out in Wisconsin this kind of dickering is unpopular, even among democrats. Bragg and Delaney made some such a dike in the democratic Second district, and the result is that a republican living outside the district represents the Second congress." The democratic party in New York, under the leadership of Cleveland and Hill, has been well tramped in the methods of making political bargains. There, it is a matter of business. Here, it is a matter of scandal and usually gets Roberto.

Speaking about the gifts of this world being distributed to people in inverse ratio to the services they render, the Salt Lake Tribune says: "Queen Victoria has been a mournful fifty years. To that time she has drawn from her subjects in rents, annuities, etc., over $100,000,000. She has had, besides special provision made by the government for her family. Just now we are told that a jubilee fund has been proposed for her, and that money to the amount of $5,000 per day is coming into that fund. Then too, she sells butter made on her estates in Devonshire. Under such circumstances we can all see how generous was the impulse which prompted her to raise the pension of the old, armless, and legless soldier to the extent of $3,32, per week. Is it strange that England is growing a little tired of this business of royalty; that on two or three occasions she has been publicly hissed?"

The Chicago Journal makes this mention of the death of a prominent Wisconsin man: "Ashley D. Harger, whose death at Hot Springs, Ark., on the 13th instant, is reported, was connected for many years past with the Chicago and Wisconsin press. He was a forcible and graceful writer, a pushing business man, and had many qualities that conduced to success in his profession. These traits of character were, however, offset by eccentricities and weaknesses which prevented the accomplishment of much that would otherwise have been within his easy reach." Ashley Harger possessed uncommon natural gifts. He was a fine editor, writer, and some of his best work was done on the Wisconsin press. But his appetite was strong and for more than half the time he was not himself. He could have done for himself many creditable things, but his appetite and his unbalanced mind would not permit him to succeed. He easily could have ranked among the most successful journalists in the state, but the curse was upon him and there was not moral force enough in him to make life a success.

Charles B. Reynolds, the blousphemer and special friend of Robert G. Ingerson, has been tried at Morrisstown, New Jersey, for the crime of blasphemy. In October last, Reynolds published a pamphlet on "Blasphemy and the Bible," embellished by a double-page cartoon entitled "Castigating Pearls before Swine—C. B. Reynolds in New Jersey." This represented the lecturer distributing these jewels to a number of unapreciative logs, some of which are branded with a capital M, others with a cross, in the background is a tent, to the lecturer's right the keeper of the M lot stands beside a sign marked "M. E. Hog Pen" with a bracket labelled "Methodist Shop." To his left, beside the "Pigsty of the Holy Virgin," is a man with a basket of "Orthodox Swift." A sign post points to "To Boston." His attempt to distribute copies of this Morristown and its vicinity resulted in his again being indicted under the New Jersey statute against blasphemy and was tried last week. Ingerson defended Reynolds, and at the trial claimed that he had a right to circulate the documents. The jury found the prisoner guilty and he was fined $25 and costs. It should have been ten times the amount.

He doesn't like it.

He didn't like it either. He had been very hot during the day and appeared to indicate a transformation.

This shows, that on the one hand the president is smiling with complacency at the miscreants, while on the other he is dealing out the spoils of office to the democrats with a generous hand.

DEADLY PERIL IN THE FOG.

COLLISION BETWEEN TWO OCEAN STEAMERS OFF NANTUCKET.

Five of the Passengers Horribly Done to Death and Others Wounded—Fire Still Working Hayce in the Penobscot—Ironwood and Hurley Cut Off and in Probable Danger—One Life Lost at Lake Linden.

Marquette, Mich., May 22.—Full details from Lake Linden show that fully 3,000 people suffered from the fire. John Casey, alias "Reddy," was sleeping in Hastings when the fire broke out. Haskins' son woke him up, but he lay down again, and was burned to death. Harris' insurance is $60,000. He will resume business in Turner Hall. Newman & Trelease's insurance is $55,000. They will resume business in an old warehouse. Telegrams and letters asking aid for sufferers have been sent out, and the people are responding freely. The villages of Hancock and Houghton contributed $1,000. Premium men from the copper country have raised $1,000. Mayor N. H. C. Moore and Peter White, of this city, contributed $100 each. Prompt assistance is needed. All money should be addressed to Dr. Fletcher, Lake Linden, Mich.

Marquette was visited by heavy rain Saturday afternoon, but it seems to have been light, as it is reported dry and hot generally on the peninsula. The village of Paragon was at one time Sunday apparently drenched, but the wind suddenly shifted, and the town is safe for the present.

Along the northern division of the Northwestern road there are some fires in the forests. Along the line of the South Shore road, east of this city, the fires are burning.

The natural gas from the oil wells had burst through a hole in the roof, and when the watchman, Joseph Geschwind, entered it on his round, an explosion took place, demolishing the building and flinging the structure.

The demolition was frightful, and demolishing windows in the neighborhood. Geschwind was taken out, but so severely burned that he can not live. John Hagenau, who was with Geschwind, was not found.

The captain of both vessels are on the lookout for older vessels and icebergs after the collision, the fog being unusually dense.

Four grown persons and a little girl, all steerage passengers on the Britannic, were killed, and seven persons injured. Two of the latter, William Lawler, aged 65, and Patrick Burke, aged 45, had their arms and legs broken, and were brought to St. Vincent's hospital, this city, for treatment.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Public Meeting at the Council Chamber on Monday Evening.

There will be a public meeting held at the common council chamber on Monday evening next, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of making arrangements for a proper celebration of the Fourth of July. Let all patriotic citizens attend, and start the arrangements with a boom.

MANY CITIZENS.

Tell us what kept Ben Perley Poore? For we have asked in vain.

Did right show make the Indian corn? Why did Robert Treat Paine?

—(Lynn item.) And in what band does Carroll Wright? And where does Cabot Lodge?

What did Alanson Board? What did Foggie Dodge?

—(Capt. Ann Breeze.) Who pursued and won all Carl Schurz?

With whom does George Francis Train? Can any one approach Bill Nye?

What "cup" was won by Mark Twain? —(Charleston Enterprise.)

HOW TO SAVE THE BOX.

Col. Hogeland thinks this should receive more attention.

Five pastors sat in the uplit chairs of the Baptist church last evening, and enough members of their several churches were present to fill every nook and corner in the large auditorium. The pastor was the Rev. Dr. Dodge, the Rev. H. A. Miner, the Rev. W. F. Brown, the Rev. T. DeWitt Pease and the Rev. Mr. Schneider. It was a union service and no services were held in either the Presbyterian, the Congregational or the two Methodist churches, as many were anxious to hear Col. Alex. Hogeland's address on "Finding Homes for the Boys."

Within five years Colonel Hogeland has visited over two hundred cities. His motto is "Good boys make good men," and the discourse last evening was to show what work a society with that motto would find. Prevention, he said, is better than cure. Instead of spending thousands upon thousands of dollars in arresting and imprisoning criminals, how much better it would be to provide for homeless boys before they become criminals. A boy may wander about in search of a home for weeks and months without being noticed. The law doesn't provide for such cases as that, they will tell you. But let that boy take one step downward, and see how soon the law will provide for that. All the machinery of the government will be instantly put in motion to arrest him and put him among thieves and pickpockets where any good that there is in him will be quickly driven out. Many incidents of life among the newsboys of the cities were given and before closing a free lecture was announced at the First M. E. church on Tuesday evening. The colonel also promised to address the meeting at the Wayside Inn this evening.

MEMORIAL DAY next Monday. Prepare your flowers to decorate the graves of the heroic dead.

The St. Paul express yesterday consisted of a locomotive, two baggage, five passenger, one dining car and two sleepers.

Judge Patton has issued a warrant for the arrest of John Donnelly, who is charged with selling liquor without a license.

In the Presbyterian church yesterday morning, the pulpit was filled by the Rev. H. A. Miner, he exchanging with the Rev. Mr. Brown.

Let me have the biggest Fourth of July celebration in the state of Wisconsin. We can fit every patriotic citizen will lend a helping hand.

Reliable authorities claim that the scarcity of water in certain parts of town has made dish pans suddenly popular for bathing purposes.

Yesterday morning, the Rev. Thomas Walker's pulpit was filled by the Rev. J. Schneider, of Edgerton. The sermon was a strong one, and was thoroughly appreciated.

From all appearances an addition will have to be put on the Janesville laundry very soon. Work is coming in fast enough to make the genial proprietors heads swim.

The artesian water trade is good. Several house owners are having their cisterns filled with water from the artesian well. It only costs $1.50 per load of about 20 barrels.

Dr. Raymond, of Lawrence University, dedicated the Methodist church at Monroe yesterday. He stopped over one train in Janesville and was a welcome caller at the Gazette office.

The westside sprinking wagon looks positively hilarious. The proprietor, Mr. Elmer Main, is a happy sort of a bouncing little girl that arrived at his home yesterday.

While Jack Sullivan and his two companions were being taken from jail to the municipal court this morning, Sullivan broke away and escaped. He threw the officers from the track and has not yet been recaptured.

Two or three of the charming singers in "Esther" are in mourning for their rubber gossmers which were exchanged for those belonging to others. The persons will visit this office they can have an opportunity to trade back.

The Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, May 24, at 4 o'clock at the Wayside Inn. All members and others interested, are earnestly invited to be present, as business of importance is to be presented.

City Clerk Fenton received word this morning from the manufacturers of the house numbering plates stating that the numbers would be shipped to-morrow. They will probably reach here by Thursday when they will be put up immediately.

Mrs. H. A. Smith and Mrs. C. L. Conrad sang at the Baptist church yesterday. The entire musical service of the day was charming, but especially should be made of Mrs. Smith's solo in the evening, which received many compliments.

Invitations have been received such a general revival of trade at Frank Shure & Co's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Cougle, Golds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, all colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

THE WEATHERMAN.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 74 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with southwest wind. At 1 o'clock p. m. the register was 81 degrees above zero. Cloudy with southeast wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 67 and 81 degrees above zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 60 degrees above zero. Cloudy with southwest wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 82 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with northwest wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 65 and 81 degrees above zero.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands of despairing patients can testify. On this point a trustworthy medical writer says: "A proper local treatment is absolutely necessary to success but that in most of the remaining general cases by physicians afford but temporary benefit." Ely's Cream Balm is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient.

Refuse from Milwaukee and Main streets hardly makes suitable grading material even for the less frequented avenues. To convince the health officer of this fact let him visit North Fifth street. This street is only seven rods long, yet there is more rotteness and stench to the square foot than in any hog-pen in the city. All owing to the spreading of this kind of material on the surface.

The wooden sill upon which rests the rear gable of the rear addition of John Griffith's West Milwaukee street building, gave way to-day, letting portions of the brick work into the river and making several large cracks in the remaining wall. The whole of the brick work of that portion will have to come down in order to put a new sill in place and repair the damage. The building proper is all right and sound.

That colored porter had an aristocratic and influential gathering to smile upon when the first regular day express over the cal-o-fon came through Janesville. It was at half past six last evening, the new time card going into operation at noon. Taken all in the entertainment was a complete success, and as the before-mentioned colored porter, surveyed his forty thousand dollar audience he seemed to think so himself.
